Kimono dining table

Designed by Magnus Pettersen

English text

The Kimono dining table is designed as an ode to the genuine strength and refined simplicity of traditional Japanese craftsmanship. Every joint and line is carefully considered in an honest construction that reflects this heritage.

With its understated silhouette, Kimono invites a closer look. Gentle curves soften the architectural frame, while the stretcher, passing visibly through each leg, becomes a subtle signature. The generous tabletop offers space to gather and lets the natural beauty of the wood unfold. A piece that feels grounded and enduring, yet carries a lightness in its expression.

Danish text

Med sin balancerede formgivning og forfinede detaljer er Kimono spisebordet en hyldest til japansk håndværkstradition. Bordet er skabt med udgangspunkt i ærlige konstruktioner, hvor hver samling og linje er nøje afstemt og forenes i proportioner, der skaber visuel to.

De bløde kurver på de markante ben giver et poetisk modspil til bordets enkle, arkitektoniske udtryk, mens den gennemgående sprosse fremstår som en grafisk signatur. Med sin generøse bordplade inviterer Kimono til nærvær og samvær, mens den indbydende overflade lader træets naturlige åretegning træde frem og danne rammen om det liv, der leves omkring det.
